The history of Fort Harrison, a Confederate stronghold in Richmond's outer defenses during the war, is reviewed in a setting of color and grandeur.

Henrico County today bequeaths to Hermitage students an inspirational heritage. Established in 1611 by Sir Thomas Dale, Henrico has evolved with the times. During the War Between the States, the county served as the guardian of Richmond. Earthworks were built around the city with forts at strategic points to shield Richmond from attack. On the second day of the Battle of Seven Pines, General Robert E. Lee assumed his first field command after General Joseph Johnston was wounded.

Following a slow recovery from the war during the Reconstruction Period, Henrico County in the twentieth century has grown in population, in efficiency of governmental organizations, and in services and modern conveniences. As citizens of Henrico County, students of Hermitage High School have a rich heritage which will give them guidance and inspiration to an unlimited future.

Mr. Hallmark Boosts Panther Spirit

Mr. Hallmark, a resident of Henrico County, has been a favorite with the members of the Hermitage faculty as well as with the members of the student body. Although not officially connected with the school, he has attended many of our sports events, pep rallies, dances and other activities, showing a keen interest in every facet of school life and giving Panther spirit an extra boost. Whether stopping to chat in the halls, cheering at a pep rally or watching a football game, his friendly smile and warm handshake have been extended to all. Hermitage will long value his friendship and the interest which he has shown in us.

Always showing his friendly sense of humor, Mr. Hallmark can be seen much of the time with a smile on his face.

We Dedicate '66 Panthian to Miss Howell.

For a vital interest in each student, for an abundance of patience and understanding, for the warmth and friendliness which have endeared her to our hearts, for excellence in the role of an educator, for devotion and hard work given unselfishly to each club she has sponsored, we dedicate our memories and accomplishments to one who has given much of herself to Hermitage and to our class. It is with pride and pleasure that we, the Class of '66, dedicate the PANTHIAN to Miss Rosemary Howell.

Hermitage Curriculum Makes Achievements in Education.

Ever since the public school system was founded by Horace Mann, academics has remained the prime purpose of public education. Henrico County has made many notable advances in the academic life of its young people. More than $30,000,000.00 has been utilized for school construction since 1947. A Long Range Comprehensive School Improvement Program has been initiated; its objectives are being achieved. As knowledge is changed into wisdom, the academic achievements of Hermitage students will become a living tribute to the men and women who founded Henrico more than 350 years ago.

Friendly Atmosphere Is Fostered by Panther Administration

Problems ranging in magnitude from the traumatic to the habitual formed the basis of an average day in the Hermitage office. Under the direction of Mr. Paul G. Watson, Jr. and Mr. William F. Goodlow, Jr., the administration functioned smoothly throughout the entire year. Endeavoring to mold well prepared young adults, our principal had the task of overseeing all of the various departments of Hermitage. Mr. Goodlow assisted him in carrying out this job. Each individual at Hermitage, from the students to the faculty, appreciated the helpfulness and guidance of Mr. Watson and Mr. Goodlow. Because of this amiable relationship, Hermitage maintained a friendly atmosphere.

Mr. Goodlow displays his ready smile to students in the hall.

Guidance Stresses Correct Study Habits

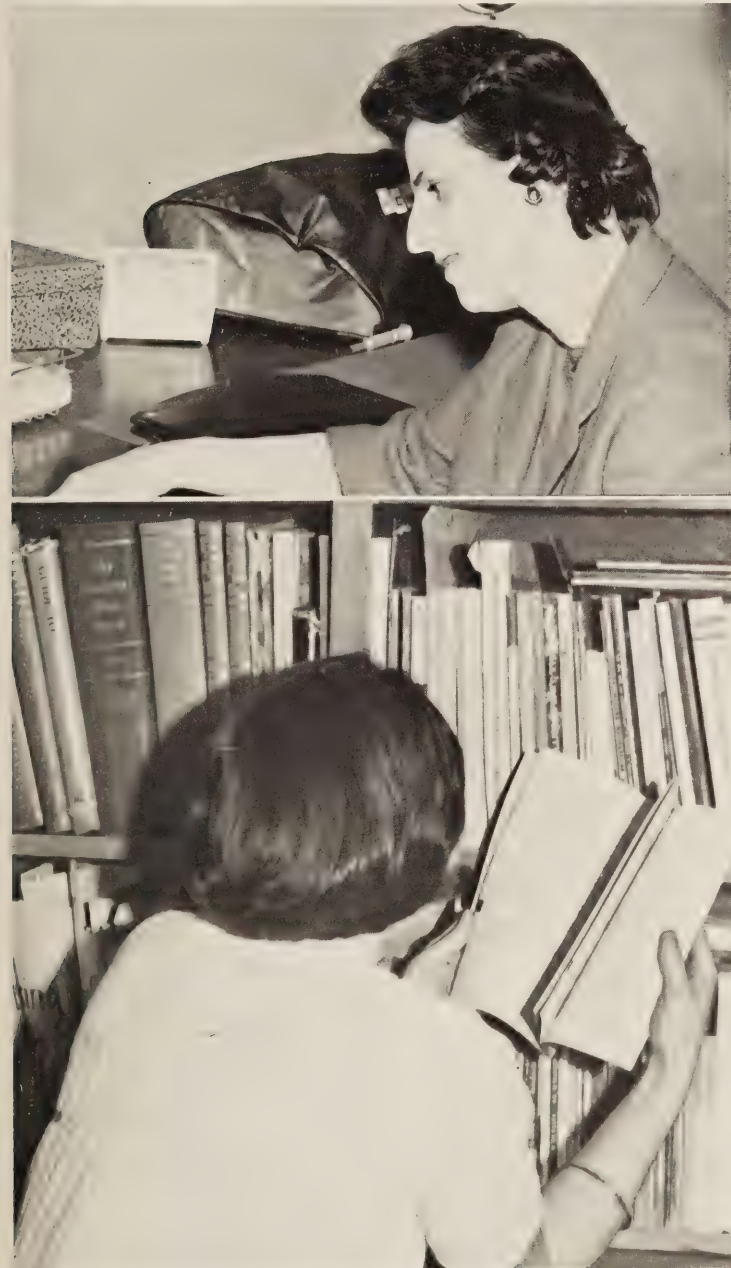

Counseling with the purpose of avoiding rather than correcting problems, the guidance department strived to keep its door open to students, parents, and teachers. With an interest in the individual, Hermitage guidance counselors placed emphasis on social, moral, spiritual and creative development. To make each student realize his capabilities and responsibilities, the department stressed long range planning.

This year the Panther Guidance department worked as a unit to organize a more efficient orientation for ninth and tenth graders. Emphasis for all grade levels was placed on the administration of tests as well as the interpretation of scores. In addition to their many duties, the guidance counselors implemented a "How to Study" program.

Secretaries and Nurse Perform Tasks for the Student Body

To keep a school plant functioning smoothly required the aid of many people who represented the unifying force between the student body and the administration. The Hermitage secretaries performed the necessary paper work that kept Hermitage running efficiently. In addition to the secretaries, ailing students appreciated the knowledge and skill of Mrs. Smoot, the school nurse. Although these people were not in contact with the student body every day, their influence was always felt.

Only Hermitage Offers a Personal Typing and Notehand Course

The business education department offered courses for both personal use and for business students. The three major programs for vocational business students were the clerical curriculum, the stenographic curriculum, and the bookkeeping curriculum. Through these curricula students were prepared for specific jobs in the business world. In their senior year business students could receive valuable cooperative part-time training in office work through the vocational office training program.

The business education department initiated a course in personal typewriting and notehand this year for college preparatory students. Hermitage was the only school in the Richmond area offering this course. IBM keypunch training was also offered.

a Well-Rounded Education in English

The English department organized several changes in their curriculum such as a combined course in language, literature, and composition. Three levels of English were to the student body in tune with their skills and abilities; their choices were basic, average or high performance English. Again the film MACBETH was a highlight for the seniors, while the juniors concentrated on working with the short story, and the sophomores gained a basic concept of literature to prepare themselves for the approaching years.

Focus Week Sparks Languages

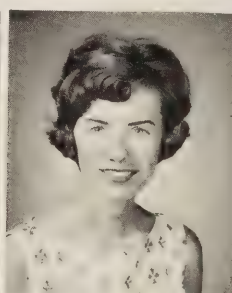

To further interest in both modern and classical tongues, the Hermitage foreign language department sponsored a Language Focus Week on March 15, 16, and 17, 1966. Hermitage students were given an opportunity to exhibit their prowess in the annual French, Spanish, and Latin tournaments held in the spring. Making use of visual aids, language teachers endeavored to give an insight into the geography and customs of a country in addition to drilling the language fundamentals. To acquaint Panthers with the various seasons as seen by Latin, French, and Spanish classes, the foreign language pupils maintained a bulletin board and display case throughout the entire school year. In all, the Spanish, Latin, and French teachers advocated interest in translation and cultural backgrounds of their specific languages.

Musical Groups Perform in Area

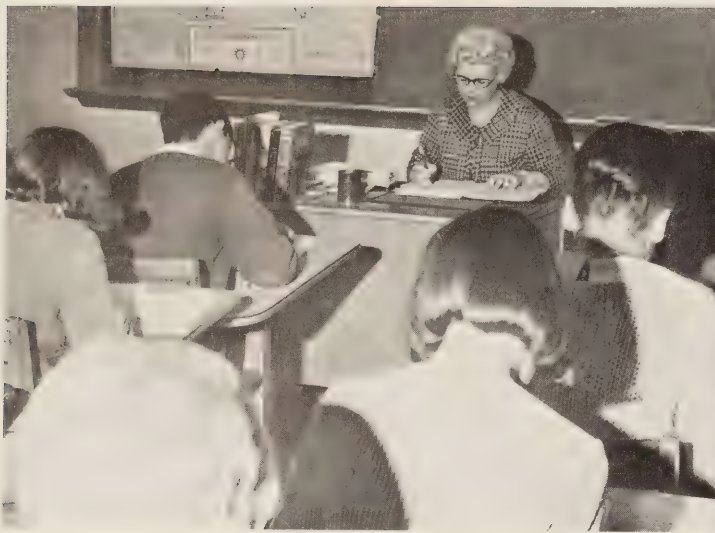

Through study and performance the Hermitage music department endeavored to develop the basic fundamentals and an appreciation of music for all Panthers. Performing at pep rallies, the Panther band and the A Cappella Choir heightened enjoyment for both students and the faculty. In addition to school concerts, music students participated in such extra-curricular activities as the operetta, the District Instrumental Festival, and the spring concert. Pre-game and half-time shows enabled the band to exhibit its versatility. The change from marching to concert band took place at the end of football season. Combining both instrumental techniques with vocal music, the various groups performed at Stunt Night and in other local activities. Throughout the year the music department promoted the Panther spirit.

Math Is Offered on Many Levels

Math, one of the few subjects that had many different levels, was geared to the interests and abilities of the individual student. A variety of math courses enabled the students to choose the math that would best prepare them for the future. The college preparatory students who had successfully completed the two years of algebra and one of geometry were able to take two different courses in advanced math, and the remaining students chose either consumer math or advanced arithmetic which prepared them for the business world by giving them a secure background in mathematics.

Science Classes Tour Smithsonian

In order to keep abreast of current times, the science department took on a more important role in the curriculum of the Hermitage student. In the first years of a pupil's science exploration, biology, taught this year on a college and general level, was a required subject. Chemistry and physics were not a prerequisite for graduation but gave valuable aid to the college bound student. Chemistry utilized the experimental approach, while physics acquainted the student with such phenomena as motion, force, sound and matter.

Featuring art exhibits semi-monthly, the Hermitage art department shared its creative ability with the school. Exhibits from the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts were also displayed for Panthers' viewing. Participating in the county art show May 7 and 8 was only a small part of the art students' curriculum. The individual student viewed current art shows every two weeks while keeping abreast of daily assignments. By studying and imitating various artists' styles, creative students learned more of the art world.

Mechanical drawing, woodworking, machine shop, photography and electronics represented other facets of the art world. Those students interested in the various phases of architecture found the industrial courses successful in supplying the necessary background in this field. Advanced courses were available for students who had a definite desire for an industrial career.

Home Economics and Library Mold Alert Citizens

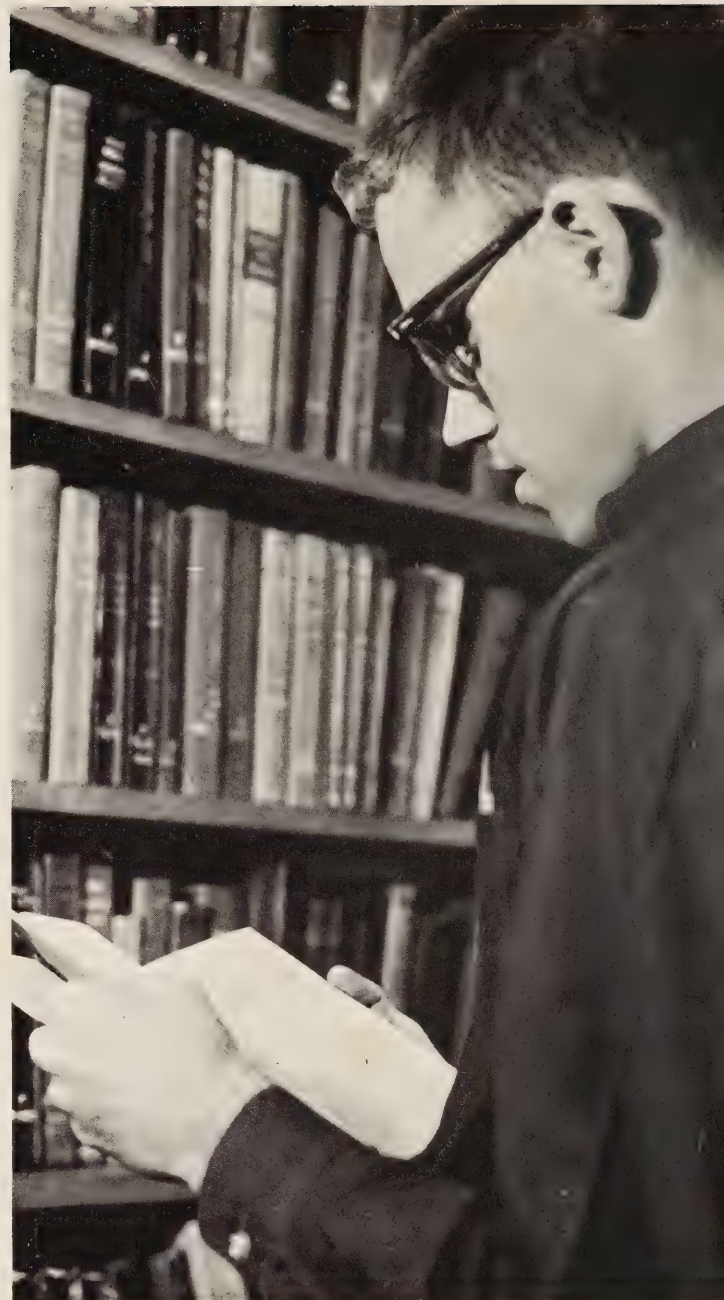

Equipped with carefully selected books and magazines, the Hermitage library was well-prepared to fulfill the needs of the students. Using the facilities in their spare time, students took the opportunity to gather information for class assignments or to increase their own personal knowledge. The newly installed air-conditioning system provided a comfortable atmosphere for students using the library facilities.

Striving to help students in their growth to maturity, the home economics department included all phases of homemaking in its curriculum. Not limiting themselves to cooking and sewing, students realized that home economics centers mainly on the responsibilities of home and family living. Homemaking included refinishing furniture, studying the responsibilities of marriage, and observing the development of a group of three to five-year-old youngsters attending play school. The Hermitage homemaking department endeavored to help students to be better individuals and better family members.

Hermitage Emphasizes Many Aspects of Physical Education

Hermitage gave the students more than a basic education in the three R's: it also stressed the physical aspects of a person's development. The physical education department utilized many forms of exercise and group participation sports in order to better the students' health as well as sportsmanship. The department used well-known games such as basketball, tennis, football, and volleyball because these games afforded the students the opportunity to participate in group activity while enjoying sports. Both boys and girls learned the importance of good physical exercise.

Mrs. Thorn explains history courses to students and parents.

To offer more than the required subjects, the history department included electives in English history, twentieth century history, and economics. Added to these, the Panther history department this year made available a course in sociology. Due to the many facets of the social studies department, a Hermitage student could take both history and government, thereby interlocking the economic, geographic, and social factors of a country. In all history courses, Hermitage teachers endeavored to mold well-informed future citizens. Keeping an eye on both past events and current affairs, the teachers of the history department were an integral part of our school system.

Extra Effort Keeps H.H.S. First Rate

Many people worked behind the scenes to make Hermitage a more enjoyable school. Four lunch periods each day allowed the cafeteria staff to use its ingenuity in meal planning. The cafeteria staff proved its ability again and again by successfully serving well-balanced meals.

Helpers less seen by the student body were the custodians. Clean halls and classrooms mirrored the effective labor of this group. Without the aid of these people there would have been no Panther spirit.

Students Cherish the Laughter and Emotion of Activities

Although social activities are not an essential part of a high school career, they play a vital, integral role in the life of a student. These events complete the making of a well-rounded individual. The memories of the last dance at the Prom, of the excitement of campaigning for S.C.A. candidates, and of the laughter shared with friends at the senior play will be cherished when the memories of grades and College Board scores are gone.

Macbeth Inspires Pep Rally Skit

As the cheerleaders boosted spirits at the pep rallies, the walls of the gym seemed to bulge. This year the "Hot Dog" Club returned to assist the cheerleaders in skits presenting the fates of rival schools. In one, titled "Super-Spirit," the members enacted the kidnapping of Coach Fritz to prevent him from obtaining his 100th victory for Hermitage. However Super-Spirit arrived just in time to save Coach Fritz, who immediately signed him up to play for Hermitage forever. On one occasion, while witches brewed their evil potions, ghosts of the defeated teams appeared and related how Hermitage had beaten them at their own game of football.

The band and majorettes played an important role in promoting enthusiasm at the pep rallies. Many times, distinguishing between the cheering of the students and the blaring of the band seemed difficult.

Hermitage Says "Hello" to Genny

Wow! A French girl? When is she coming? How old is she? Do you think we will be able to understand her? Golly, I hope she likes us! All of these were typical reactions of Hermitage students when they heard the news. Hermitage High School was going to have a French student for one whole year! However, enabling her to journey to the United States and finding a temporary home here turned out to be a difficult task. Through combined efforts of the Student Cooperative Association, numerous school organizations, and the individual classes, Hermitage was able to finance the project and find her a temporary home, which happened to be the residence of Dr. League. On August 14, 1965, Genny arrived in the United States, and on September 5, 1965, she was introduced to the student body by Margaret League, her new American sister. Seventeen-year-old Genny Gachignard, who lived in Tours, France, became a part of Mr. Jarrett's senior homeroom and a part of the whole high school.

Extra-curricular activities kept Genny quite busy. Having been asked to be an honorary member of Le Cercle Francais, Genny participated in several of the programs, one being the trip to the Virginia Museum Theatre to see the production of FANNY. Genny also became a member of Y-Teens I and Sparkettes.

Having never seen a football game, Genny's first was quite a thrilling one. Though confused by many of the plays, she soon learned to cheer as loud as any other Hermitage student. Her first close-up view of a football field came during the half-time of the homecoming game where Genny rode in her own car during the homecoming parade. From that time on Genny has become an integral part of Hermitage, and we hope Hermitage has become an integral part of her.

In this past year we have learned from day to day talking, working, and living with Genny that no matter what nationality we are, common bonds of truth, loyalty, and friendship shall always bind us together. We hope these bonds of friendship will give Genny fond memories of Hermitage High School, for Genny has left us with nothing but happiness.

The burning of the effigy of a John Marshall Justice Thursday night, October 14, at the bonfire lit up a sparkling Homecoming weekend. Led by the cheerleaders, the students shouted for victory on the following night. The wave of enthusiasm continued during a dance on the blacktop at the close of the bonfire.

Friday night, cars decorated by school clubs circled the stadium. Many of the clubs planned their cars several weeks previous to the parade. The cars competed against each other with themes centering around the game with the Justices and Panther spirit. The cars were judged and the winners announced: first place, the Sophomore Class; second place, Calliopean Club; third place, Y-Teens III and Hi-Y. The crowning of Miss Dottie Shelton, the Homecoming Queen, escorted by Kenny Broaddus, climaxed the evening. It ended with a 13-6 victory over the Justices.

Honoring a radiant queen and her court, the SCA sponsored the annual homecoming dance on Saturday night, October 16. Football pennants covered the walls of the cafeteria. Zeke and the Soulsetters supplied lively music for the close to a rollicking homecoming weekend.

Students' Hidden Talents Are

Protraying an important event in Hermitage's school calendar are the annual one-act plays. These plays, presented by the students and directed by several faculty members, enable any adventurous student to display his acting ability by performing on the Hermitage stage.

Confusion, tears, laughter, and noise are all a part of the excitement of dress rehearsal and first night jitters. Despite all of this, much time and hard work goes into each one of the many rehearsals. This is always very apparent on opening night when the curtain rises and the audience is projected into a London cellar, a village green, or a cabin in the hills of Kentucky or West Virginia, with students portraying anyone from a wash woman to a hillbilly. Everyone has an enjoyable time each year and maybe the most fun is had by the student themselves.

Christmas Spirit Is Reflected in the Glow of Happy Faces

The true Christmas spirit descended upon Hermitage with the sparkle of a tree and the glow of happy faces. Using their originality, students made Christmas door displays; and homerooms 126, 205, and 123 received prizes for their artistic abilities.

Various organizations sponsored several charitable projects which the students helped to carry out. Baskets for the Christmas Mother, which the homerooms filled with food, were placed under the Christmas tree by the Hi-Y members, who sponsored the project. Mrs. Jones' homeroom received congratulations for the most appealing basket. The Red Cross requested each homeroom to fill two friendship bags with small health and school supplies to be sent to children in Viet Nam. The Key Club sponsored a dance at which each student presented a toy for admission. Needy children received these toys on Christmas Day.

On the final day before Christmas vacation, the A Cappella Choir and the band presented a program for the students. Santa Claus and Rudolph paid a visit, bringing to a close a lovely concert of Christmas music.

Seniors Select Winter Carnival Court

With the approach of February 19, students began preparations for the Winter Carnival. Several weeks in advance, the Senior Class elected eighteen couples to the court. Voting for the King and Queen was held during the week preceding the dance, with the couple receiving the next to highest amount of votes as Maid-of-Honor and Escort.

This year the Hi-Y transformed the gymnasium into an enchanting palace ballroom. As in previous years, a jewel-studded silver crown was suspended above the throne. Along the walls, twinkling candelabra illuminated the dance floor. Prince James and the Royal Knights entertained. After the presentation of the 1966 Winter Carnival Court, the King, Kenny Broadus, crowned Janice Perkins, the new Queen. Marla Price and Judson Collier were Maid-of-Honor and Escort.

Week of Campaigning Precedes Elections for SCA

A week of bustling activity and delirious sign-making preceded the elections of the S.C.A. officers for the year 1966-67. Students elected as candidates for the offices were as follows: President—Steve Buckingham, Eddie McClammy; Vice-President—Berkley Pickels, Gary Pfeiffer; Secretary—Billie Sue Hawley, Marilyn Johnson; Treasurer—Randy Willis, John Moore. Each nominee had a campaign manager whose responsibility it was to familiarize all the students with his candidate. On Friday, May 13, the candidates presented to the student body their campaign speeches. Following each speech, supporters of that candidate performed a stunt. After voting during the lunch periods, students anxiously awaited the announcement of the newly elected officers who were as follows: President, Eddie McClammy; Vice-President, Berkley Pickels; Secretary, Marilyn Johnson; Treasurer, Randy Willis.

Club Members Unite to Create Comedy in Stunt Night

Apprehensive fragments of conversation floated into the hall from the auditorium as a large audience awaited the rise of the curtain. "Chickenman," "The Men in My Little Girl's Life," "Never Too Young," "Peanuts," and "The Toy Shoppe" led the audience through a charming world of comedy and fantasy. The close of the evening, March 5, brought the announcement of the skits selected as the best. Latin Club, Knights of the Black Panther, Calliopean Club, and the Senior Class received commendations for their talent and originality.

Music, Love, Color — All Are of the West

The music department took us West in their production of MEET ARIZONA. The operetta, written by George Brown and Charles Cadman, was performed April 15 and 16. Upon the death of her uncle, Lettie Blair arrives at the ranch from Vermont, accompanied by some of her friends. Since no will can be found, she as next of kin, will inherit the Ride 'Em Hard Dude Ranch. Cappy, corral boss at the ranch for several years, does his best to steer Lettie and Larry Benson, whom the Colonel had adopted at the age of three, toward matrimony. When Lettie and Larry learn of this conspiracy, they decide to hate each other. In the end they reveal their true love for each other, and Cappy "discovers" the missing will. He had kept it all along, waiting for the two to profess their love. Thus, the curtain closes on a stage full of happy endings.

Memorable Junior-Senior Prom Is a

Early in the year the junior class began preparations for the Junior-Senior Prom. Decisions of a band and a theme faced a large prom decoration committee. Soon they were caught up in frantic prop painting and later on, parachute hanging. After three nights of strenuous labor, with the willing aid of Mrs. Grubbs—the class sponsor—and several other faculty members, the juniors revealed the surprise for the seniors.

On May 27, the juniors said "Sayonara" to their guests in a Japanese garden while the Ovations entertained. As each couple entered through a pagoda, they saw a temple surrounded with cherry trees and a stream flowing beneath a wooden bridge. Cool mountains on one side and a fire-spitting dragon on the other made the atmosphere truly unforgettable.

Drama Students Secure Superior Rating at District Festival

The dramatics department visited an Italian court in A VENETIAN HOUR, for which they received a superior rating in the district festival, February 25. Count Matteo, one of the rulers of Venice, is involved in an argument with Milan. Count Matteo's niece, Giovanna, meets Terello and falls in love with him, not knowing that he is the ambassador from Milan. Her uncle, discovering the romance, disowns Giovanna. As the curtain falls, Terello and Giovanna elope.

A southern belle, an American Indian, a concert pianist, and a grouchy author—all ghosts—made a love story into a pleasant comedy. True-to-life props and expert sound effects enhanced the quality of the production, which was presented by the Senior Class of 1966.

Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character Are Criteria for NHS

The lights dimmed and a robed figure walked steadily and surely up the aisle. He entered the row behind me. Upon my shoulder—four light taps. I could not contain my happiness and emotion. Each of those tapped into the National Honor Society, April 1, experienced this as well as the thrill of hearing his name announced. Each of the following was selected for his contribution of leadership as well as scholarship, service, and character: seniors—Alma Peters, Pat Golden, Suzanne Long, Carol Johnson, Phil Rohrbach, Brenda Sims, Linda Oliver, Chris McKay, Jimmy Miller, Janice Carter, Joanne East, Gwen Johnson, Johnny Kennedy, Marla Price, Sharon Reger, Eleanor Stancil, Susan Steele, Diane Zaun, Vivien Nichols, Mary Tyndall, Judy Baughan, Genny Cachignard—honorary member. Ten juniors were chosen: Kay Meyer, Janice Vellines, Beverly Hammock, Gail Granger, Marilyn Dorsett, Betty Ogburn, Eddie McClammy, Brenda Carrier, Sandra Sweeney, Billie Sue Hawley. The society also tapped Patsy Dulaney, a sophomore.

Senior Class of 1966 Attends Its Last Honors Assembly

As the seniors filed into the gymnasium for the Honors Assembly, May 10, 1966, every eye followed them. To think of the seniors leaving brought an occasional tear. When everyone was seated, Eddie McClammy, S.C.A. president, led the student body in the Pledge of Allegiance to the United States Flag.

While most juniors sat on edge, Mr. Watson presented Paige Kibler with the Mortar Board Alumnae Award and Eddie McClammy with the Harvard Book Award. Three seniors, Sandy Seavers, Tommy Walton, and Jimmy Miller, received commendations for their outstanding scores on the National Merit Scholarship Tests. Linda Jordan accepted the D.A.R. award from Mrs. Sheppe. Carolyn Bass and Ed Ford, two outstanding members of the senior class earned the "I Dare You" Award. Chris Mowbray, president of FTA, presented the Citizen of the Year Award to Ben Wilson.

After these and many other awards were presented to students, everyone sang the Alma Mater and watched the graduates leave the gymnasium.

On behalf of several local service clubs, Mr. Gene Johnson presents Ben Wilson plane tickets to Sacramento, California, where he will participate in the Golden West Invitational Track and Field Meet.

Mr. Goodlow presents Judson Collier the Youth Achievement Award.

Organizations Provide Experience Necessary for an Active Citizen.

To many people who are unfamiliar with the student world, an organization is a social structure built on constitutions and parliamentary procedure. However, organizations are not structures; they are people—people with a common goal of training, service, or just fellowship. Not all of these people aim for their goal in the same direction. Many wish to lead; many are willing to follow. All are willing to share the responsibilities, the hard work, and the good times necessary for an organization's ultimate success. Knowledge and experience gained as both leaders and followers will enable Hermitage students to take their places in society as active and responsible citizens.

After being tapped, Diane Zaun glows with joy as John Ragland pins on her National Honor Society pin.

Behind the social and sports events at Hermitage stood the National Honor Society, which paid tribute to those students who had achieved its goals: scholarship, service, character, and leadership. Among the ways this club honored Hermitage students for their scholastic endeavors were collecting and displaying the names of those on the honor roll each six weeks, giving a trophy at the end of the year to the club with the highest scholastic average, and presenting certificates at the year's end to those students who had made the honor roll every six weeks.

Students Represent Hermitage

The Columbia Scholastic Press Association Conference in New York was again the site for the yearbook, newspaper, and literary magazine critique and workshop this year. The conference was designed to help and improve the different aspects of high school publications.

During the summer between their junior and senior years, five boys and four girls represented HHS at Boys' State at William and Mary and Girls' State at Radford. These students, chosen by the faculty on the basis of service, leadership, honesty, and courage, spent a week learning about the local and state government.

The Debate Team Shows Scholarly Knowledge as It Participates in Numerous Debates

Practice debates with schools in the Capital District and intense study prepared the debate team for their meets. The Science Club Aims to Broaden Students' Scientific Knowledge Promoting a greater interest in science was the goal of the newly organized Science Club. Throughout the year the Science Club had several speakers and movies, one of which was entitled "Project Mohole." In May, each member submitted a project to the Science Fair, which was held at Varina High School for all junior and senior high school students.

Hermitage Players Help Produce Plays

The members of the Hermitage Players, under the leadership of Mr. Johnson, made the dramatic presentations throughout the year successful. The members helped in directing and arranging the settings for plays, and in operating the stage equipment. They also participated in the one-act plays, the festival play, the operetta, and the senior play.

Hermitage Players: J. Shorb, B. James, L. Williams, Sponsor, Mr. Johnson; L. Smith, J. Miller.

Clinic Assistants: S. Seavers, B. Flippo, D. Mayo, M. Benton, School Nurse, Mrs. Smoot; C. Pierce.

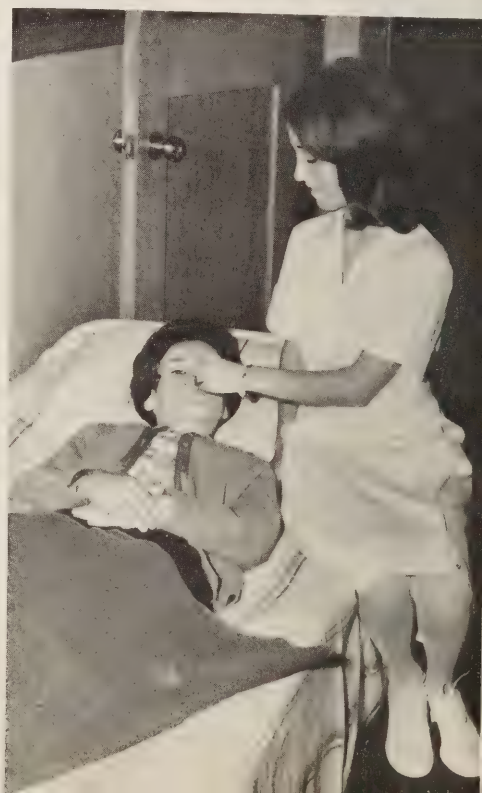

Hermitage Students Spend Many Hours

Although the student practical nursing program at Hermitage was not extensive, it was indeed worthwhile and rewarding. The Virginia Mechanics Institute offered a half-day course in the basic fundamentals of nursing. This course gave students practical experience, and they became licensed practical nurses.

Each period of the day, the clinic assistants worked efficiently toward establishing a more comfortable and well-organized clinic. During lunches every day and before school each morning, the supply room assistants sold the necessary school supplies to the students.

Supply Room Assistants: J. Schwartz, J. Korn, G. Moore, B. Pfitzner, L. Davidson, H. Hedley.

Assisting Administration and Faculty

Providing the school with extra needed manpower and developing office skills at the same time, the office and guidance assistants were students who gave a portion of their day to helping the administration. If it were not for these students, neither of these offices would have operated as efficiently as they did.

Guidance Assistants: J. Roberts, D. Hudson, C. Pleasants, C. Johnson, C. McKay, N. Davidson.

Students Aid the Faculty in Many Ways

The Library Assistants worked in the library during various periods throughout the day, doing such jobs as checking books, reshelving books, helping students find certain material, and other tasks. With the efficiency of these assistants, the librarians were able to maintain a complete and competent library.

With the help of the Hermitage Sound Crew, the teachers were able to supplement their lesson plans by the use of audio-visual aids. The Sound Crew issued and checked in the equipment, aided teachers when necessary, and kept the aids in working order.

Assistants Ease Teachers' Work Load

Upon request of the teacher, some students gave up their study periods to become student assistants. They assisted the teachers by checking the roll, correcting papers, and often conducting the class in the absence of the teacher. The custom began about six years ago to alleviate the work load on the teacher.

Keynotes and Hi-Los Contribute Talents

The harmony of the Keynotes provided entertainment not only for the school but also for the community. The Keynotes allowed girls with musical interests, whether singing or playing the guitar, to further their talents. They performed between acts at Stunt Night.

The Hi-Los, one of Hermitage's singing ensembles, performed for a variety of groups throughout the year. By entertaining at various hootenannies, banquets, and churches, the Hi-Los had an opportunity to sing the many folksongs that they learned during the year.

Musical Groups Represent Hermitage

The Madrigal Group provided a year of entertainment for both Hermitage students and the community. They presented their musical talents at the County Festival, for the Delta Kappa Gamma teachers' honorary organization, and for the banquet given in honor of Coach Chester Fritz.

The Dixie Land Band was organized chiefly for the pleasure of its members. To further their talents and also to provide good entertainment for others, they played during Stunt Night and at the Band Boosters Dinner.

Under the direction of Mr. Theodore W. Beach, the Hermitage High School Panther Marching Band did much to promote school spirit during pep rallies and football games and encouraged musical interest among the student body. The band was represented at the

All-Regional Band and for the thirteenth year at the All-State Band. The band also participated in the Christmas program and the spring concert.

Marching Routines for HHS Activities

The Hermitage High School Majorettes spent much time and effort in preparing school-spirited routines for presentation during pep rallies and during half-time shows at the football games. The Majorettes deserved credit not only for the time that they devoted during the school year creating precision marching routines, but also for the time spent throughout the summer in preparation for the coming year's activities.

The Majorettes, working in cooperation with the band, participated in the school pep rallies, the annual Toy Parade, and the Apple Blossom festival parade at Winchester. Also in cooperation with the band, these girls lent their support in all fund raising projects.

A Cappella Choir Sings at Pep Rallies

Through the A Cappella Choir, the more advanced music students participated in a number of school and community functions. They performed for local churches and organizations. By singing at pep rallies and presenting a Christmas program, they boosted the Panther spirit. At the State Music Festival, they were judged according to their ability and quality. The operetta, MEET ARIZONA, highlighted the year.

The Girls Chorus Improves by Practice

The Girls Chorus provided a number of entertaining musical activities for the students of Hermitage, while striving to increase their musical appreciation. At Christmas the chorus participated in the annual assembly and caroled for the students during lunchtime. Taking part in the Spring Concert, the Girls Chorus finished their year of musical fulfillment.

Calliopean Club Is a Winner With Life at Camp at Stunt Night

One of the primary duties of the Calliopean Club was the presentation of various musical events at HHS—the Christmas program, the A Cappella Choir's Spring Concert, and most notably, the operetta. The members of the club attended ballets, hootenannies, concerts, and the musicals FANNY and MY FAIR LADY. Two students were sent by the Calliopean Club to the Virginia State Music Camp at Harrisonburg. At the end of the year, the John Phillip Sousa Award and the Calliopean Vocal Award were given to a band and a chorus member, respectively.

Christian Youth League Meets Each Week for Spiritual Inspiration

On Wednesday morning of each week, the students in the Christian Youth League took time out for spiritual guidance and inspiration. This interdenominational organization opened to its members a broad perspective on life and religions.

The individual members often invited their own pastors to lead the discussions and help foster a feeling of Christian fellowship among them.

French Club Strives to Make French Day During Language Focus Week a Success

Le Cercle Français strived to promote interest in the French people, their customs, and their way of everyday life. One of the highlights of the year was the question and answer period between the two French students at Hermitage, Chris Grancetti and Genny Gachignard, and the members of the club. Each meeting brought forth some new form of entertainment connected with French, such as playing French games and the presentation of "The Night Before Christmas," en français.

The Spanish Club and FTA Sponsor

The purpose of the Spanish Club was to give its members a better appreciation of the culture and language of the Spanish people. This was gained by the interesting and informative programs which were given at the meetings. The Spanish Club acquired the Spanish film LLUVIA ROJA for showing at Hermitage.

Throughout the year, the club's fund raising projects included numerous bake sales and a dance held for the student body with music provided by the Esquires on January 8.

Bake Sales at Nearby Grocery Stores

The Future Teachers of America Association of Hermitage helped students who were interested in a teaching career. Bake sales and paper drives aided the members in carrying out their main project of raising money for a scholarship. The organization cooperated with the teachers and the school by cleaning up after the English teachers' meeting and serving as guides for the P. T. A.'s annual "Back to School Night." The members of the F.T.A. strived to learn more of their future profession of teaching. The club worked with the guidance department in discovering the present occupations of Hermitage graduates.

FHA Honors Teachers During FHA Week

With concentration on the aim "Morals and Manners Matter", the members of the Future Homemakers of America engaged themselves throughout the year in many worthwhile and self-satisfying service projects. As a Christmas project, the girls made gifts with decorated soap and distributed them among the patients at a local nursing home. The members of the F.H.A. decided upon one "fun project" a month among which were bowling, skating, and a progressive dinner.

FBLA Promotes Interest in Business

Striving for advancement of active business leadership, the Hermitage Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America invited Dr. Tucker and four of his business students from the Richmond Professional Institute to speak on the courses offered there. In November the members visited R. P. I., in preparation for the Regional Convention held in February. Visits to such places as Smithdeal Massey Business College and the telephone company, plus bake sales and service projects, helped to make an interesting and enjoyable year.

The Panthianette Informs Students

THE PANTHIANETTE, the school newspaper, strived to provide an interesting and adequate coverage of the 1966 school year at Hermitage. The newspaper staff developed each of the paper's ten issues from the initial stages of planning layouts to the distribution of the completed copies into the individual homerooms. The printing of the newspaper was the responsibility of the photography department. These two staffs, working in unison, succeeded in presenting the student body with an interesting and informative newspaper.

Pep Club Promotes School Spirit

Working to promote school spirit, good sportsmanship, and interest in all school activities, the Pep Club's most necessary addition to the school was the outside public address system now used at track meets. For football games, the club decorated the stands and goal posts and sold programs and chrysanthemums. To promote students' interest in school activities, the club sold decals, gave out Alma Mater and athletic schedule cards, and arranged the students' calendar each month. They also sponsored the "Good Sportsmanship" door contest, the Panther at football games, and "The Most School Spirited" award. As a final project, they gave scrapbooks to each senior basketball player and a sports scrapbook to the library.

Throughout the Year the Key Club Carries Out Various Service Projects at Hermitage

To welcome the new students to HHS, the Key Club sent out letters to each at the beginning of the year. They sponsored a clean-up day for the school's beautification, a program for vocational training, and the annual Toy Dance for the benefit of the Crippled Children's Hospital. The members volunteered for work with the Cancer Society and Multiple Sclerosis Association. The Key Club Sweetheart Dance and the 1965 Autumn Training Conference were also hosted by the club.

Knights Sponsor Money-Making Projects

The Knights' goals were effectively carried out this year as they met their various school duties. They completed their daily responsibilities such as raising and lowering the flags, bringing in the school mail, and watering all the plants.

The Knights helped the students by contributing a two-hundred dollar scholarship loan fund to be given to an outstanding senior. To raise money for this fund, the Knights sponsored a paper drive and a car wash, and sold football and basketball pins.

The SCA Creates an Awareness in Student Government

The Student Cooperative Association was the largest active student organization at Hermitage. This organization, with its special goal to create a keen awareness in student government, helped each participating member to become an active part of his school. During the past year the S.C.A. sponsored many useful and entertaining projects. Among these were the annual activities of Homecoming, Hunting Season, Winter Carnival, the One-Act Plays, Stunt Night, and a door decorating contest at Christmas. With the new projects—a money drive program and a collection of food for the needy at Christmas—the members of the S.C.A. strived to help their fellow students and members of the community.

Hermitage Students and Henrico Citizens Urge Panthers on to Victory

At Hermitage, athletics attract the attention not only of students, but also of parents, teachers, and other residents of Henrico County. Spectator sports such as football, basketball, track, cross country, and baseball provide relaxation and enjoyment for the spectators and a sense of accomplishment and physical fitness for the participants. School spirit has always been fostered in Hermitage athletics; for whether win or lose, one thought prevails—Hermitage Panthers are the BEST!

Our Team Is Backed With Spirit

The Hermitage football team finished the season with pride and confidence. In scoring, Hermitage took two-hundred and three points offensively, and only twenty-five points were scored against them. The Panthers highest scorer was Billy Schlenk, who scored a total of fifty-four points. Tommy Garner, the second highest scorer, scored a total of thirty-five points and kicked what may have been the longest punt in district history, forty-one yards. Mike Tierney, end, made the All-Metro Team along with tackle, Tommy Lindsey. Highlighting the season was Coach Fritz's one hundredth win in which the team defeated Varina 51 to 0.

Team Shows Panther Spirit by Hard Work

Plagued by injuries throughout the entire season, the Hermitage Basketball Panthers managed to win eight games while losing ten in regular season play. However, the Panthers scored a total of 969 points. Kenny Broaddus, Cutler Dawson, Wayne Scott, Dennis Lutz, and Bill Bailey, the starting five according to quarters, scored 764 of the 969 points. Even though Broaddus was out of action for five weeks with a dislocated knee, he was the high scorer with 177 points for the season.

Dawson suffered a fractured elbow which put him out of action for four weeks. The absence of these fine players was detrimental to the performance of the Panthers. But the Capital District teams learned after each game that the Panther defense gave nothing. With such returnees as Dennis Lutz, Bill Bailey, Dean Pittman, and Wayne Scott, the Panthers can look forward to a truly fine '66-'67 basketball season.

Victory Over Douglas Freeman

The Junior Varsity Basketball Team is the forerunner of next year's varsity team. With the defeat of Douglas Freeman, 45 to 40, the boys set new goals for themselves. So many of the boys were injured throughout the season that one of the managers, Chuck Miffleton, was pressed into action. The junior varsity players looked forward to being part of the varsity squad when they would be eligible for letters. The honor of becoming a member of the varsity team could only be accomplished through hard work, continuous practice, and a great deal of self discipline.

Coach Mountjoy recognizes the team's weak points and tries to strengthen them.

As Hermitage finished its Cross Country season, the Panthers found themselves with another winning season. With outstanding team performance and the fine running of Ben Wilson, the team compiled a record of four wins and two losses in district competition. Hermitage also placed third in the district meet in a field of six teams and fourth in the state meet in a field of twenty-four teams. Ben Wilson, outstanding throughout the season, placed first in all dual meets but one, first in the Wake Forest Invitational Meet, and second in district and state meets. Ben also made the All-District Cross Country Team. Coach MacAlexander was quoted as saying, "I think this has been the best team Hermitage has had."

Baseball Team Beats Freeman 4-2

This year the Hermitage High School Baseball Team displayed their usual spirit and sportsmanship at all their games even though they won 5 games against losing 8 and tying 1. The most valuable player, Mike Crawley, helped boost the morale and keep the Panthers on their feet to win over Douglas Freeman and George Wythe. Throughout the season the baseball team kept up their spirit and were tops in sportsmanship.

Panther Track Team Goes Undefeated

An undefeated season and an all-time high in scoring were the results of the 1966 Panther track effort. Led by Tony Rolfe and Ben Wilson, who scored 139 and 109 points respectively, the Panthers ended Freeman's winning streak at 22, and Ben Wilson set a state record in the mile, turning in a time of 4:14.9. Hermitage track records were also matched. Curtis Isbell set a record in the pole vault with a jump of 13' 3", and Tony Rolfe matched the 100 yard record with a time of 10.0 seconds. With such a strong season, the Panthers can truly look forward to a productive '66-'67 season.

J.V. Cheerleaders Pep Up Panther Spirit

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders were the driving force behind the Junior Varsity Basketball Team. When the team was down on its luck, the encouraging cheers and yells provided by the cheerleaders more than once proved to be the deciding factor in the game. The girls also participated in several pep rallies and cheered in the stands at the home football games. While looking forward to trying out for the varsity squad, the J. V. Cheerleaders helped the girls from Brookland who would soon take their places on the squad.

Girls' Basketball Ties for Championship

Two wins over Douglas Freeman, along with a record of nine wins and one loss, highlighted the season of the Girls' Basketball Team. Sparked by the teamwork and the outstanding playing ability of the five starters, the team ran up a score of 457 points offensively. Proving their leadership, the tri-captains, Margie Vaughan, Mary Tyndall, and Sharon Liverman led the Pantherettes to complete their best year ever.

Spirited Varsity Cheerleaders Lead the

In the traditional Hermitage spirit, the varsity cheerleaders enthusiastically led the Panthers throughout the school year. The cheerleaders prepared all pep rallies, cheered at all games, participated in the annual Thalhimers Cheer Rally, and rode in the Toy Parade at Christmas. Amusing skits produced by the cheerleaders and the Hot Dog Club boosted school spirit. The year was climaxed when the cheerleaders and majorettes switched places for one pep rally. Win, lose, or draw, the cheerleaders worked diligently to boost Panther spirit and morale. The result was a year of the best Panther spirit ever.

Hermitage Students Enjoy Many Aspects of School Life

Coming together for the first time, the sophomore class became an integral part of the Hermitage student body by making new friends and participating in several clubs. The junior year was filled with even a greater sense of maturity, and a growing awareness of the importance of a well-rounded life of education and social activities. With high hopes for the future and the added knowledge of senior privileges, the juniors worked diligently toward their final goal—their senior year at Hermitage! Along with their senior privileges, the students gained leadership and responsibility and looked toward the future with anticipation. However, without the past years at Hermitage, the future would not be nearly so bright.

A Discotheque Is the Scene

The first day of school the Sophomore Class of 1966 was introduced to Panther spirit at an assembly and pep rally; traditionally the sophomores occupied the space provided for them on the floor of the gym. However, the class, the largest in the school's history, did not let this inconvenience dampen its spirit. Proud of their new school heritage, the sophomores cheered loudly in class competition.

After becoming accustomed to high school life, they began to look forward to the first big event of the year—Homecoming. Through hard work and burning of the midnight oil, the sophomores were awarded first prize in the homecoming parade of floats.

Ordering the class rings was a big event in the life of each sophomore. Amid the excitement and confusion, each ring was selected to suit the particular individual.

The end of the year was highlighted by a dance held on the 30th of April. From the ordinary to the extraordinary, the cafeteria became a spectacle to the viewer's eyes. The swinging scene of a discotheque set the mood for an evening of fun and excitement. Music provided by the Toronados helped make the evening a success.

Randy Willis Is Elected

As October drew near, the juniors eagerly awaited the arrival of their class rings. Distinction between the sophomore and junior classes had finally taken place, and the juniors were proud to have a symbol of their advancement. Every detail was discussed—from the color of the stone to the fear that some girlfriend's ring was not going to fit her boyfriend's finger.

This year thirty-nine juniors took the National Merit Scholarship Tests, and others took college boards for the first time. These were important steps for those juniors planning to attend college.

As usual, the junior class's biggest project was the Junior-Senior Prom. Committees met after school and on weekends to discuss the planning. The committees worked hard on decorations and other preparations to make their prom the best yet.

The fact that the juniors were able to sit in the bleachers was a welcomed experience as was the excitement of taking the chairs of the graduating seniors. After the closing of the Honors Assembly, the juniors swept down on the waiting chairs.

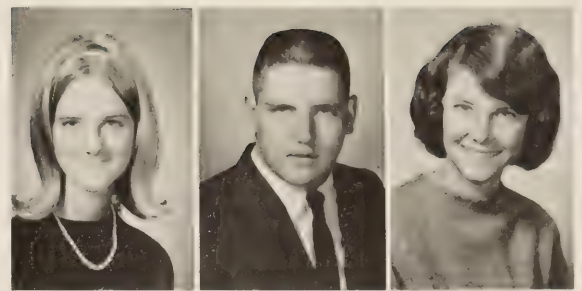

The past year was a pleasant one for juniors who looked forward to their last year at Hermitage when they would be seniors.

Twenty-One Seniors Are Tapped

The fading of spring into a glowing summer brought back many memories to the Senior Class of '66. Those memories were the highlights of three years of both hard work and fun at Hermitage.

The seniors enjoyed many privileges, such as the use of the front parking lot. Not only at mid term, but also at the end of the year, seniors with "A" or "B" averages were exempt from their exams.

Special dances highlighted the year for the seniors. The weekend of October 15 and 16 was a memorable one for Dottie Shelton as she was crowned homecoming queen by last year's queen. Saturday, February 19, the gymnasium was transformed into an illustrious ballroom awaiting the entrance of the Winter Carnival Court. The coronation of the king and queen, Kenny Broadus and Janice Perkins, climaxed the evening's festivities.

For the first time MACBETH was presented on stage for the seniors by the Shakespearean Players. On May 20 and 21 the senior class presented their annual play, LO AND BEHOLD. The play, directed by Mr. R. B. Johnson, was based on the Pulitzer Prize winning play of the same name.

Contrary to previous years, graduation did not bring the seniors' stay at Hermitage to a close; but was followed by three more days of school, one of which was the senior class picnic. Finally, on June 10, 1966, the senior class was able to close the doors on three wonderful years.

Senior Class Council—Front Row: N. Murdock, J. Baughan, A. McCarty. Second Row: N. Pitts, B. Green, L. Oliver, L. Jordan. Back Row: V. Hodgson, D. Vawter, J. Royall, J. Ladd.

Seniors lead the student body in traditional Panther spirit at a pep rally.

Happily Kenny Broaddus receives his diploma and a handshake from Mr. Watson as Hal Hedley and Mr. Goodlow assist.

Graduation Marks Beginning for Seniors

The seniors' first donning of their caps and gowns was for the baccalaureate service, held again this year in the gymnasium of Brookland Junior High School. Dr. Robert Bluford delivered the message to the graduates.

On June 7 the senior class filed into the Mosque where, in the presence of family and friends, they terminated their years at Hermitage with the graduation exercises. Linda Jordan, Gary Clarke, and Ed Ford gave speeches utilizing the quotation "... and I will leave a trail." Traditionally,

Mr. Moody, Superintendent of Henrico County Schools, gave the charge to the departing seniors. This also was the time for many seniors to be awarded scholarships and the class gift to be presented to the school. At the close of the evening, Hermitage realized she had lost the Class of 1966, but she had contributed to the world four hundred young men and women who were ready to take on the responsibilities of the future.

Pam Brown, Beverly Bluford, and Margie Brown, while listening for their names to be called, anxiously wait to receive their diplomas.

Lora Charles thinks quietly of her past years at Hermitage.

The Reverend Mobley and the Superintendent of Henrico County Schools, Mr. Moody, show that anxious moments are not shared only by seniors.

The Mosque Is the Scene of

Steve Ganzert, Lawrence Heath, Bobby Hoffmann, Wayne Cardoza, Frank Hayes, and Herman Hicks form a pact never to let their years at Hermitage be forgotten.

Assembled for the last time in caps and gowns, the seniors listen attentively to the program speakers.

Graduation for Four Hundred Seniors

Ed Ford receives assistance with his robe from Gary Clarke and Linda Jordan while Mr. Watson looks on with approval.

Advertisements

Indicate Growth and Diversity of This Area.

Advertisements indicate many things to Hermitage students and to Henrico County and the surrounding area. To this financial area, advertisements are evidence of the development and expansion of the world of business which bring greater services, products, and conveniences to citizens. To the students, advertisements indicate not only new styles and designs, but also local support for a school publication. Advertisements indicate the interdependence of both groups. Buying and selling of tickets, lunches, and school supplies are daily occurrences at Hermitage. In addition, many students are employed at area businesses. Advertising reaches everyone, and the result is a constantly changing business world.

Margaret Dohn writes a receipt for Ronnie Whitehurst at Princess Cleaners.

Youth Continues Proud Tradition of Hermitage High

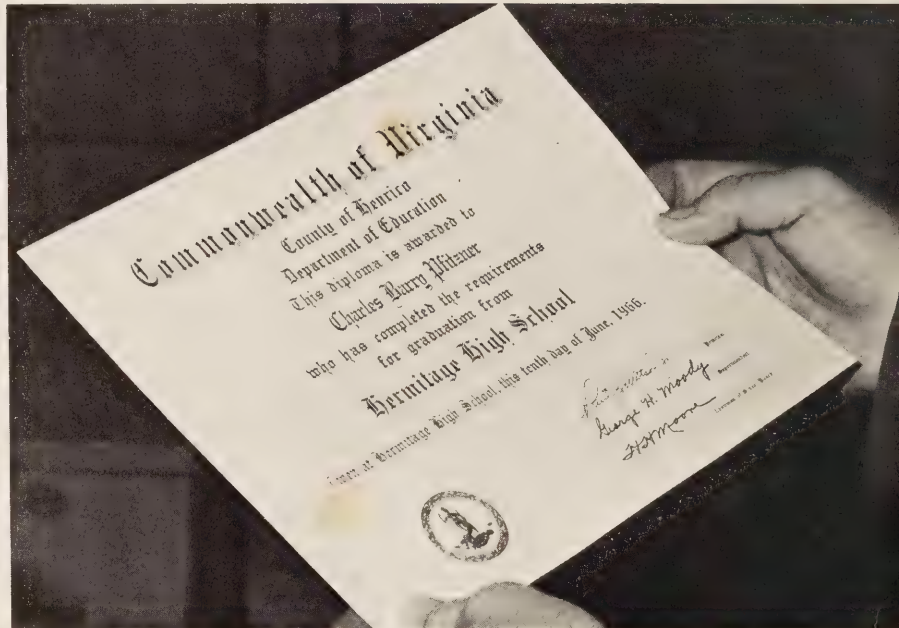

The school building and grounds symbolize the past, the present, and the future. Within its walls, young people confront opportunities for mental, social, and physical development.

The diploma symbolizes the present. It suggests the completion of a successful high school career and the commencement of higher levels of education and work.

The children symbolize the future. As youth of Henrico County they will continue the proud tradition of Hermitage High School.

The children in play school, conducted by Hermitage home economics classes, have fun listening to records.

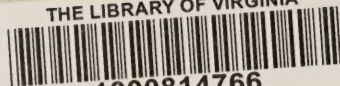

For some, the diploma is the end of twelve years of education. For others, it is a step toward broadening their knowledge.

Hermitage High School is loved by all its students, past and present
